

School Funding and Data Center Development

School funding is a multifaceted system influenced by a range of interdependent factors. At this stage, it is challenging to determine with certainty the specific impact the Data Center may have on the school district. However, we remain committed to collaborating closely with District Leadership to support the most favorable outcome for all stakeholders involved.